Silent Fitness System:

The Silent Fitness System is a unique, all-in-one system which allows popular fitness classes such as Zumba, Bodypump, Bodyattack, Bootcamps and Insanity to be delivered in any location without the need for a massive sound system. It's entirely portable which means you can take your classes anywhere, including outdoor locations where there is no limit on class size and no expensive costs for hall hire. It allows fitness instructors to stay ahead of their competitors by capitalising on key trends like the movement towards outdoor fitness classes, and the increase in wearable technology within the world of fitness.
